If you’re thinking about renovating or improving your pasture this season, it’s worth considering a tropical blend or a custom mix. At Barenbrug we have a number of high performance tropical grass mixes and legume blends offering multiple benefits to graziers.

Meatmaster Prime Pasture Mix

Ideal for heavier black, self-mulching soil types

- Suited to the heavier black, self-mulching and grey cracking flood plain soil types
- Enhanced productivity
- Productive mix for finishing cattle in summer whilst building a large volume of good stand over feed for the winter months

Description:

This mix is suited to the heavier black, self-mulching and grey-cracking flood plain soil types. The productivity of Tolgar Rhodes™, Bambatsii and Megamax™059 is enhanced by the adaptation to the soil type. The late season of the grasses is complemented by a legume component to keep protein in the pasture and nitrogen cycling. This is a very productive mix for finishing cattle in summer, whilst building a large volume of good standover feed for the winter months.
